The Center for Child Welfare Education and Research solicits applications for two positions, Champions and Scholars.

Champions for CCWEAR:

Champions are approved for a two-year renewable term, with ongoing evaluation as the basis for continuance. Continuance is based on a majority vote of the Associates. Champions are community and professional partners that have shown a vested interest in the mission of CCWEAR. Champions will be expected to contribute to the CCWEAR mission through the following activities: assisting CCWEAR Associates with projects, advocacy efforts, logistical and operational functions, building community networks, facilitating relationships with key stakeholders, and other relevant activities. Champions will focus their efforts on one of the CCWEAR pillars, with each pillar typically having no more than one Champion assigned.

Scholars for CCWEAR:

Scholars are approved for a two-year renewable term, with ongoing evaluation as the basis for continuance. Continuance is based on a majority vote of the Associates. Scholars are encouraged to be specialists from disciplines other than social work, and may be employed outside of Western Kentucky University. Scholars will be expected to contribute to the CCWEAR mission through the following activities: research design, securing external funding, grant management, data collection, data analysis, writing and publishing manuscripts and technical reports, program evaluation, and other expertise as relevant.

Directions for Letter of Application:

In 1 page or less, please describe your motivation for applying to CCWEAR and your expected contribution toward the CCWEAR mission.
