Q4 - From your experience, what are the greatest strengths of WKU counseling graduates and/or interns?

From your experience, what are the greatest strengths of WKU counseling gra...

Flexibility, content knowledge, and professionalism

Content Knowledge Professionalism Organization and Structure

WKU Graduates or interns are well versed in the building blocks of good clinical work. For the most part they function independently and are eager to learn.

The willingness to jump right in the water has been amazing. Betany wants to be involved, and I never had to ask her to step-up to a task. She was GREAT!

well versed in important subject matter including ethics, therapeutic relationship, theory, and intervention.

WKU students have a strong work ethic as well as solid foundation of basic counseling skills and theory. The interns I have worked with have been eager to learn and willingly accepted feedback. From working with students from both WKU as well as other surrounding colleges, I have noticed much more organization of the practicum/internship experience as well as understanding of the process from WKU students.

Clinically trained at a level higher than other local schools and prepared to practice.

Excellent counseling theory and understanding of counseling techniques.

Education in mental health disorders and treatment theories

Knowledge of theory and counseling practices, strong sense of ethics and work ethic

Q5 - What improvements would you like to see regarding WKU counseling graduates and/or interns overall?

What improvements would you like to see regarding WKU counseling graduates...

More time in the schools with us and less time in the classroom overall...

Some interns struggle to meet with clients or observe sessions with late afternoon and evening hours due to class schedules. Many sessions are later in the day to accommodate work hours or school schedules. I would also like to see interns with a more thorough knowledge of documentation from assessment and treatment planning to note writing.

I have been very pleased.

Continued development of case conceptualization and application of theory

A further emphasis on counseling paperwork would likely be advantageous to students; however, I know there has been some changes in this area over the past year, which has been a very positive experience for the interns that I have worked with Travel west!

None

No suggestion

A little more emphasis on paperwork (I.e. Treatment plans, notes, etc.)
