

Jada Webster, Spanish and Psychological Science with a Concentration in Clinical Psychology, Class of 2023

Written: Fall 2022

By: Bethany Waddey

“Take risks! There are so many opportunities at WKU, and everyone wants to see you succeed! Do not be afraid to ask questions or explore; you will never forget it!”

Jada is a senior at WKU originally from Indianapolis, Indiana. She is very involved on campus, participating in Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, INC., National Pan-Hellenic Council, Order of Omega, and the Intercultural Student Engagement Center. She is double majoring in Spanish and Psychological Science with a concentration in clinical psychology. She will graduate in May of 2023 and pursue a master’s degree in clinical psychology in hopes of becoming a neuropsychologist.

Once Jada graduates with her master’s degree, she hopes to be able to utilize her dual studies in Spanish to provide care to Spanish-speaking communities. She says that through her job in the Office of Scholar Development, she can see first-hand the incredible opportunities WKU has to offer, and she is sad she did not get to study abroad during her undergraduate years.

Her advice to students studying a language is to take risks! There are numerous opportunities available at WKU, and staff and peers want to see each student succeed! She says, “Do not be afraid to ask questions or explore; you will never forget it!”.

Jada is an exemplary student within the Modern Languages Department, and we wish her well in her future endeavors.

