

Instituting Terms for Senate Leadership

To provide stronger and more consistent leadership for Senate, as well as facilitating better communication between Senate and university administration, I propose instituting terms for Senate Leadership.

Chair: A two-year term with a limit of 2 terms.

Vice-Chair: Two-year term with a limit of 2 terms.

Secretary: Two-year term with a limit of 3 terms.

Each position would require the senator to rotate out of that specific leadership position for a full term before running for re-election.

Elections would run on the same schedule as Departmental Senator elections.

Suggestion: These positions all become non-voting members so if a person does not get re-elected (i.e. such as an at-large senator) they can remain in their position until their term ends. Must be an elected senator to run for any position.
