

Instituting Terms for Senate Leadership

To provide stronger and more consistent leadership for Senate, as well as facilitating better communication between Senate and university administration, I propose instituting the following terms for Senate Leadership.

Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary: A two-year term with a limit of 2 consecutive terms.

Elections would run on the same schedule as Departmental Senator elections. If a member of senate leadership does not get re-elected to their senate position, that position must hold an election to fill the position with an elected senator, even if this occurs during an at-large senator election year.

If an election of a senate leadership position occurs during an at-large senator election year, that position will still hold its regularly scheduled election during the next departmental senator elections.
