Dillon, indicated that they wanted this course to be repeatable and asked if this can be changed now? Autin - thought the college level needed to approve the repeatable first. Mienaltowski - currently listed as 1 hour and changing to 3 hours. George - confirmed that the college level would approve it to be repeatable. Question asked if the proponent can make a friendly amendment. Jerome – agrees to approve with a friendly amendment. Hammonds - implementation date says fall 21 but there’s a current student with the problem, so does it need to be spring 21? Dillon - no hurry. Friendly Amendment – variable 1-3 hours and repeatable to the max of X number of credits. “Dillon will update and send back to UCC Chair.” The department can pull the proposal at senate if they are not in agreement with the friendly ammendment.

Courseleaf Policy for Proposal Submissions to UCC

(Drafted by Shelia Flener and Merrall Price)

- Jerome asked if we were really going to be strict on grammatical errors. Price stated that she was really just trying to encourage people from submitting errors.
- Much conversation took place about the process.
- Plemons suggested that we should wait until we can see how course leaf works first.
- Flener asked for clarification – Do we do Course inventory form? Rheanna say we don't but the instructions in UCC need to be updated.

Courseleaf Policy for Proposal Submissions to UCC

For the curriculum process at WKU to work smoothly, it is very important that all forms are filled out completely and accurately. Given the change to Courseleaf and the volume of submissions to the University Curriculum Committee, the committee will not be able to edit proposals in real time. The committee will return any incomplete or incorrect proposals to the proponent for required changes. If such changes are not made correctly on resubmission, the proposal will be suspended and considered the following term when the proposal is in proper format. To avoid delaying proposals by at least one term, please make certain that all forms are filled out correctly, and that all committee suggestions for changes to a proposal are carefully followed.

Proposals can be returned for the following reasons:

- Grammatical errors
- Incomplete or inaccurate information
- Failure to follow proper procedures
